

Property Snooping around

Homes in converted office blocks - in pictures

It will be hard work choosing one of these properties, from York to north-west London

Anna Tims

Friday 18 March 2016 23:45 GMT

Shares 46

Sheet Street, Windsor, Berkshire

From the windows of this former office block, flat dwellers will be able to watch the daily changing of the guard at Windsor Castle, and it's a five-minute stroll from the Long Walk leading to Windsor Great Park. Development is still under way so you won't be able to move in for many months. From £265,000. Savills, 01344 295 375

St Saviours Place, York

Once a tax office, it's now a des res with this 2,000 ft penthouse as its crowning glory. The bombastic bulk of York Minster fills the view from many of the windows. You only get two bedrooms for your million, though, and there's no outside space. Guide price: £1.1m. Carter Jonas, 01904 569 148

With this 2,000 ft penthouse as its crowning glory. The bombastic bulk of York Minster fills the view from many of the windows. You only get two bedrooms for your million, though, and there's no outside space. Guide price: £1.1m. Carter Jonas, 01904 569 148

Highgate Rd, London NW5

A total of 57 apartments are being hewn out of this office block, which started its career housing a supplier of bespoke furniture for Queen Victoria before becoming a secret first world war production line for troop supplies. Half a million buys just 450 sq ft of this regeneration area. From £525,000. Savills, 020 7409 8756

Topics Property Homes

Reuse this content

more galleries

Amazing toilets around the world - in pictures

